

'ANGUS BARKS'

By Jeff Francis
AEG Executive Board

Plants I & II Stewards

These days, not many union members are willing to take on the responsibility of union leadership. The stewards listed below are your representatives, and your first line of defense on the shop floor in Plants I & II.

General Electric is very aggressive. They're always working strategies to boost productivity, rearrange the shop, relocate work, contain benefit costs, and make profits. It is unrealistic to believe that the few full-time union reps you have at the Hall can respond to all the problems the Company's activities will cause for you and your family.

Several areas have no steward. This is unacceptable. The most important issues happen on the shop floor. Each workgroup has leaders. If your group has an open stewards slot, decide amongst yourselves who would be your best representative, and get that person nominated. It only takes ten signatures on a nomination form, which is no big deal. It is a big deal to be without a steward, because that means your shop floor representative is your cell leader.

JURISDICTION	SHIFT		LOCATION	PHONE
BLDG 40	1	Jim Dube	Heat Treat	X2984
	1	Wayne McCaul	EB Weld	X2962
	1	Russ Wildman	LEPM	X1040
	2	Randy Hodson	Prep Rm	X2112
	2	Mark Russo	EB Weld	X2962
	3	(open)
BLDG 64	1	Bill Mannell	TPCE	X3295
	1	(open)
	2	Bob Berlan	TC64	X1545
	2	Chuck Gamble	TPCE	X3295
	3	Phil Kindler	TC64	X1675
	3	Phil Savageau	TPCE	X3295
BLDG 74-1	1	Jay Thomson	TPMO	X1947
	1	Louie DeSouza	RPMO	X1992
	1	Mike David	TEPM	X0686
	2	Fuzzy Herrick	TPMO	X9067
	2	Jim Logan	CMM Rm	X3539
	3	(open)
BLDG 2-74	1	(open)
	2	Ted Berhane	POU cage	X1669
BLDG 76	1	(open)
	2	Tom Wheaton	Standards	X1542
BLDG 85/40K	1	Bill Mallett	HIRSS area	X3278
	2	(open)
CRIBS	all	(open)

